EUROPEAN WAR IS ON

London, August 4.—Great Britain declared war on Germany to-night. The momentous decision of the British government for which the whole world has been waiting came before the expiration of the time limit set by Great Britain in her ultimatum to Germany, demanding a satisfactory reply on the subject of Belgian neutrality.

The British foreign office has issued the following statement: "Owing to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by his Britannic Majesty's Government that the neutrality of Belgium should be respected, His Majesty's ambassador at Berlin has received his passports and His Majesty's Government has declared to the German Government that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany from 11 o'clock p.m., August 4."

London, August 4.—In the belief that Great Britain must strike on the sea in order to prevent any invasion of its shores by Germany, the order has gone forth to the commander-in-chief of the British naval force to wipe out the German fleet. There is not much doubt that within a few hours the most terrible and disastrous marine battle of the centuries will be in progress in the North Sea.

COMMAND IS SAFE IN THE HANDS OF KITCHENER

No better news perhaps has been received since the outbreak of hostilities in Europe than that Field Marshal Lord Kitchener will be placed at the head of the British army in the event of Great Britain being drawn into the vortex. Of all the military men in England, no one who is better fitted to enter into and lead a charge of a strenuous campaign today as if he was 30 years younger.

There is nothing about warlike that Kitchener does not understand. From the day that he first buckled on a sword he has made a special study of the art and to it he devoted his entire time. Nor has he ever once proved incompetent or unworthy of the faith that has so frequently been placed in him. A man to whom honors and the plaudits of the world his innate genius has managed to keep well back in the shadow, but in spite of his characteristic attitude of aloofness and his retiring disposition he has been unable to slide from the world his innate genius along military lines. As a commander he holds the respect and unwavering loyalty of his men, and with him at the head of his armies, England may rest assured that the expected conflict will be devoid of those mistakes that reflected so detrimentally on her arms at the outset of the war in Africa.

NATIONS WERE NOT TO BE CAUGHT NAPPING

If in making preparations for war, even though he has declared in an egotistical oration to his subjects that the sword was forced into his hand, the Emperor of Germany thought that he was making a strategical move to catch his enemies unawares, he is due for a disconcerting surprise. And regardless of the carefully laid plans of years, the surprise may prove disastrous to the German nation.

It is true that when the political atmosphere became first charged with the electricity of war, the triple entente was in a sorry fix. England had on her hands the home rule question, precluding civil war; Russia faced the biggest strike in history, and France, torn by internal dissension, was practically without a parliament. When the German menace became acute, however, matters at home were soon rectified. The Irish question was instantaneously settled in the Russian strike was settled in twenty-four hours, and the French patriots at once united and made all preparations for holding up their end. Before the one big danger, local trouble, became but secondary considerations.

In a marvellously brief space of time the three nations were in readiness for any contingency that might possibly arise. The Kaiser's first move, fattened by a desire to strike straight at his foes who, to all appearances, were heavily fettered was successfully checked, and as a result, the war lord must either draw out with what hoors he may, or fight and take the consequences. Neither England nor her allies have been caught napping.

BRITAIN'S ULTIMATUM

London, Aug. 4.—Great Britain today sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding a satisfactory reply by tonight on the subject of Belgian neutrality.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Germany has declared war on Belgium. This practically means that Germany has rejected Britain's ultimatum, and will go to war with her also.

Brief War News by Cable

BOUND TO FIGHT

London, Aug. 4.—All the morning papers, even those representing the peace party, are unanimous in support of the government's view that England is bound to fight on behalf of France and in the defence of Belgium and Dutch neutrality.

LOYALTY OF DOMINIONS

London, Aug. 4.—The greatest satisfaction is expressed on all sides, in the press especially, of the loyalty to the motherland shown by the dominions overseas. The Daily Telegraph says: "The dominions are with the mother country heart and soul. It would seem our attitude has been interpreted by the German government as one of craven apprehension. They shall see. From this moment on let the word be 'let them have it.'"

FRENCH DEFEAT GERMANS

Berlin, Aug. 4.—A French army invading Germany by way of Alt Munster, on the Alsatian border, ten miles east of Belfort, according to official information given out by the German war office last night. The German border patrols are resisting the advance of the French column, which numbers 75,000 men, but the patrol is retiring gradually in face of the superior numbers.

Brussels, Aug. 4.—At 4 p.m. Monday, the Germans were still pouring into Luxembourg. A force of 100,000 is already massed along the Belgian frontier. An unconfirmed report was received that the Germans are massing another army on the frontier at Eindhoven.

BATTLE RUMOR

London, Aug. 4.—A battle is believed to be on between the German and British fleets in the North Sea. The booming of big guns was heard plainly off the English coast. Paris reports that German aeroplanes which crossed the frontier leading towards Paris, were pursued and driven back by French aeroplanes.

ARMY TRAINS PASS PORT ARTHUR

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 4.—Hurrying through with ammunition and military supplies for the arsenal at Esquimaux, six trains passed through Port Arthur on the C.P.R. today. They were made up in Quebec and hurried through, stopping only where necessary.

CZAR ISSUES MANIFESTO

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—Emperor Nicholas today issued a manifesto in which his majesty outlines the events leading up to the declaration of war by Germany and then says the Russians will rise like one man and will repulse the insolent attack of the enemy. The text:

"By grace of God, we, Nicholas II., emperor and autocrat of all the Russians, King of Poland, and Grand Duke of Finland, etc., to all our faithful subjects make known that Russia, related by faith and blood to the Slav peoples and faithful to her historical traditions has never regarded her fates with indifference.

"But the fraternal sentiments of the Russian people for the Slav have been awakened with perfect unanimity and extraordinary force in these last few days when Austria-Hungary knowingly addressed to Serbia claims incompatible for an independent state. Having paid no attention to the peace and conciliatory reply of the Serbian government, and having rejected the benevolent intervention of Russia, Austria-Hungary made haste to proceed to armed attack, and began to bombard Belgrade."

"Forced by the situation thus created to take necessary measures of precaution we ordered the army and the navy put on a war footing, at the same time using every endeavor to obtain a peaceful solution. Four parties were begun amid friendly relations with Germany and her ally, Austria, for the blood and the property of our subjects were dear to us.

"Contrary to our hopes in our good neighborly relations of long date, and disregarding our assurances that the mobilization measures taken were in pursuance of no object hostile to her, Germany demanded their immediate cessation. Being rebuffed in this demand, Germany suddenly declared war on Russia.

"Today it is not only the protection of a country related to us and unjustly attacked, that must be accorded, but we must safeguard the honor, the dignity and the integrity of Russia and her position among the great powers.

"We believe unshakably that all our faithful subjects will rise with unanimity and devotion for the defence of Russian soil; that internal discord will be forgotten in this threatening hour; that the unity of the emperor with his people will become still more close and that Russia, rising like one man, will repulse the insolent attack of the enemy.

"With a profound faith in the justice of our work and with a humble hope in omnipotent providence and in prayer, we call God's blessing on holy Russia and her valiant troops."
(Sgd.) NICHOLAS.

Will Bore for Gas

A meeting of the board of directors of the Lacombe Brick, Tile and Cement Company was held in Frank Vickerson's office, Lacombe, on the 24th July, 1914. The directors present were—D. C. Gourlay, A. M. Campbell, Dr. Gilmore, E. H. Wilson, Geo. F. Samuels, F. Vickerson, John Dameron. The absent directors were—Jas. P. McPherson and B. E. Allison, who on account of other business could not attend, and sent their regrets, and assured the meeting that anything done would be endorsed by them.

D. C. Gourlay, president, occupied the chair, and first introduced Mr. McGuire, gas expert, who stated that he had examined the Lacombe district last fall. He had also today inspected several blow-outs by gas which had occurred in past years, and he felt sure that gas could be found in the Lacombe district in large paying quantities. Mr. Martin, of the International Supply Co., Medicine Hat, has been here several times, and came to the conclusion that natural gas could be obtained in large paying quantities at a depth of fourteen to seventeen hundred feet. Mr. McGrath next addressed the directors regarding a drilling outfit, less derrick, which could be supplied for $6,389, 10 per cent with order and the balance in 30 days. Mr. Bateman, an expert driller and rigger, then addressed the directors, and said that he could erect a derrick for $900, and would undertake to drill for $5.00 per foot, provided all necessary drilling outfit and derrick was provided by the company.

After hearing these gentlemen, the directors decided to call on all persons who subscribed for stock in the company, to make an effort to pay up all arrears on stock at once so as to enable the company to enter into an agreement to drill for gas as early a date as possible.

After tendering Messrs. McGuire, McGrath and Bateman a vote of thanks for their attendance, the meeting closed.

Awful Slaughter of German Troops

Brussels, Aug. 3.—Many thousands dead and wounded in the toll paid by the German army of the Meuse for its attack on Liege. The Belgians made a heroic defense, repulsing the Germans after heavy and continuous fighting. An official dispatch reports that the Belgians have repulsed all attacks in the neighborhood of Liege.

London, Aug. 7.—The crushing German defeat at Liege is confirmed in today's dispatches. The German loss is fully 25,000. The defense put up by the little Belgian force against the cream of the German army has aroused the admiration of all nations. A Central news dispatch today says the Germans have retreated from Liege after two days of the most severe fighting, in which the German losses were enormous.

There are many reports of a great naval battle between the British and German fleets, but so far these reports appear to lack confirmation.

OPIMUM IS FOUND IN SANDWICHES SENT PRISONERS

Edmonton, July 25.—The most recent developments in the cases of Duncan Cowan, George Paradise, and three Chinese, who were arrested on the south side are interesting, and would go to show that Paradise has just completed a three-year term in the Kingston penitentiary for penny-whistling, and that Cowan is also wanted in Seattle on a white slave charge. Page, too, is well known to the police here.

Another feature of the case revealed a clever decoy for the delivering of opium to the three prisoners as they rested within the cells at the south side police station. Came noon and dinner time, and a little negro boy with a bundle of ham and egg sandwiches which he said had been given him by a Chinaman named Shar Gow to have delivered to the three prisoners for their dinner. Constable McClement, to whom they were given, grew suspicious, and with keen eye placed in inserted in the bottom slice of buttered bread, and here, cleverly inserted in the bottom slice of several of the sandwiches and carefully concealed by egg, meat and bread, was a quantity of opium.

In one case a cigarette had been inserted, and in that the opium, and in another a small stick about three inches long was covered with opium underneath. The boy was at once asked from whom he had got the eatables, and in company with Detective Gillam, proceeded up the street till they apprehended the Chinaman and placed him under arrest, and the bundle of sandwiches taken in charge by the police. The Chinaman, after being taken to the station, was recognized as one having just served a nine months' term at Calgary for having opium in his possession.

The three prisoners appeared before Magistrate Jones, but their cases were remanded. Cowan must answer three charges, namely, keeping a disorderly house, living off the avails of prostitution and of robbery and violence. No less than $15,000 bail was set by the court for the liberty of Cowan. Paradise was charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house and was remanded, his bail being set at $1,000. The charge against Page was being found in a disorderly house, and his bail set at $200. The Chinaman who served the ham, egg and opium dinner will be charged under the opium act.

Volunteers from Lacombe for Active Service

"A" Squadron 35th, Central Alberta Horse.
The following are extracts from Special Orders for the week ending 10th of August, 1914.
BY MAJOR J. C. MOORE.

DUTIES.—Orderly Officer for the week—Lieut. Page.
Next for Duty—Lieut. George.
Orderly Sergeant for the week—Sergeant Maj. Clarke.
Next for Duty—Sergeant Quigley.

PARADES.—Squadron will parade, strong as possible, at the Armories every evening at 8 o'clock, for dismounted foot and arm drill, and musketry and firing exercises.

VOLUNTEERS FOR ACTIVE SERVICE.—All men, whether at present members of the Squadron or not, who are willing to volunteer for active service in Canada or abroad, will hand in their names and addresses to Sergeant Harvey at the Armories, or to any of the Squadron Officers.

ENLISTMENT.—Every member of the Squadron is urged to assist in enlisting every able-bodied man it is possible to obtain.

J. CARLYLE MOORE, Major.
O. C. "A" Squadron 35th C.A.H.
J. B. McBRIDE, Lieut.
"A" Squadron 35th C.A.H.

Mr. McBride is in daily communication by telephone with Regimental Headquarters, and all old Army or Volunteer men whether of Commissioned or Non-Commissioned rank who wish to go on active service, can obtain the latest information from him. Present members of the Troop and those wishing to enlist for active service should hand in their names to him without delay.

It should be clearly understood that no officer or man joining the Canadian Militia, can be ordered to go on active service outside the Dominion of Canada. The Canadian Militia is for Home defence. The Canadian Parliament may authorize officers commanding Regiments to call for Volunteers to serve in foreign countries. In the case, however, of Canada, being threatened with invasion by any foreign power, the Militia would be mobilized and every soldier in the service called out to the defence of the country to help repel the invading forces. Militia men must respond to this call. If the worst comes and a hostile force actually invades this Dominion, then the law of Canada is that every able-bodied man may be called upon to take up arms.

The Dominion Cabinet Council met until late on Monday night, and it is understood that the plans for the mobilization at any moment of the Canadian forces are complete.

SHE SAVED THE DAY.

Things Are Never as Black as They Seem When They're Not Out.

It is pathetic and true story of a woman who was nearly driven to despair by a husband who had not yet recovered from the shock of her husband's death. She was sprung by his wife Saturday afternoon.

On Saturday morning his wife broke the news to him that she had decided to have a new hat. He spoke so eloquently that he was induced to give up the money he had been saving for some useful purpose.

On Saturday afternoon he went home early. He hadn't changed change in his pocket for a long time. His wife came home a bit later. She greeted him with these words:

"Oh, my dear boy, a dreadful thing has happened. You know, I had money you gave me to buy a new hat for? Well, it was stolen from me on my way down town this morning."

"Great Scott!" he cried, "a cabby man. It was my whole week's salary. It was all that—oh, heaven! We are absolutely ruined!"

"Don't worry," she said brightly. "I saved the day after all, and the loss didn't make a bit of difference."

"What? You are a jewel! How did you do it?"

"I got the hat just the same and had it charged!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Home Thrust.

"All sorts and conditions of men have explanations for their position in life," said the senator. A tramp, however, came into his observation who had no illusions about the cause of his own condition.

"A fine looking fellow," he said, "a fashionable dressed woman had just alighted from her limousine at the hotel entrance and was suddenly approached by this shabby dressed man, who requested a dime."

"No! I have no money to spare for you. I do not see why an unshodded man like you should be so presumptuous as to ask me for a dime," said the senator.

"I suppose, madam," replied the lady tramp, "it's for about the same reason that a healthy woman like you boards at a hotel instead of keeping house."

Gave It Cheerfully.

The father of a German-born lad had given him a ten-cent silver quarter of a dollar, telling him that he might put one or the other on the church's contribution plate.

At dinner the father asked the boy which coin he had given.

"Well, father," exclaimed the young man, "at first it seemed to me that I ought to put the quarter on the plate, but just in time I remembered the saying, 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could give the ten-cent piece a great deal more cheerfully, so I put that in."—Philadelphia Ledger.

THACKERAY.

He was a Hummer! Well-Filled of a Prosperity.

Nothing need be said here of Thackeray's place in English literature, which is discussed by all the critics. In any case, he is one of the most characteristic writers of the first half of the Victorian period.

His personal character is not so well known. He was a big man of a stout build, with a large head and a full beard. He was a man of a strong personality, but not strong in proportion; a beautiful vein of genius for struggling about him—'Poor Thackeray, adieu, adieu!'

Thackeray's weakness meant the excess of sensibility of a strongly artistic temperament, which in his youth led him into extravagance and too easy compliance with the follies of young men of his class. In later years it produced some follies the more vivid to his contemporaries because he sought to have been at once singularly frank in revealing his feelings to congenial friends, and reticent or sarcastic to less congenial strangers.

His constitutional independence, however, was not so easily won. It made him a humorist disquieted from him being a prophet after the fashion of Carlyle.

The author of a novel without a hero was not a 'hero-worshiper,' but the salience of his moral and intellectual force will be seen by a fair view of his life. It naturally inclined, he worked most energetic and under most trying conditions through many years full of sorrow and discouragement. The loss of his fortune and the ruin of his domestic happiness stimulated him to sustained and vigorous efforts. He worked, as he was wont to say, for money, and took his place frankly as a literary drudge.

His love led him by the way to the front, helping his comrades liberally whenever occasion offered. Trollope only once said that Thackeray was a story of his ready generosity. He kept all his old friends; he was most affectionate to his wife, and he made a home for her in later years; and he was the tenderest and most devoted of fathers.

His domestic life was not so happy as it seemed. His wife, who was a devoted wife, was not so happy as it seemed. His domestic life was not so happy as it seemed.

Street Traffic in Old Time London

On Jan. 28, 1838, an attempt was made to solve the problem of London traffic by converting the number of hackney coaches.

Charles I. issued a proclamation ordering that the number of hackney coaches be reduced to one-third of the present number.

The result was a great improvement in the traffic. The streets were less crowded and the coaches were more comfortable.

ESTABROOK'S COFFEE

When you open a tin of Red Rose Coffee, you will surely be pleased with its unusual fragrance, and you will note particularly the small, even grains, free of the yellow flake or chaff which you have always been accustomed to see in the ground coffee you have used.

This is the result of our new crushing process. The small grains settle quickly, so the coffee is never muddy, but always bright and clear. You will be convinced before you taste it, that it is a coffee of unusual quality.

Where Class Didn't Count

A young woman from abroad was starting her conquest of the country by attending domestic science.

One day, while she was in the kitchen, she found a young man of her own class in the kitchen.

He was looking at her with a look of surprise. He had never seen her before.

Fragrance

When you open a tin of Red Rose Coffee, you will surely be pleased with its unusual fragrance, and you will note particularly the small, even grains, free of the yellow flake or chaff which you have always been accustomed to see in the ground coffee you have used.

This is the result of our new crushing process. The small grains settle quickly, so the coffee is never muddy, but always bright and clear. You will be convinced before you taste it, that it is a coffee of unusual quality.

Marketing of Wool

The Live Stock branch of the Dominion department of agriculture is prepared to offer practical assistance this year to associations of wool growers in the preservation and marketing of their wool for sale. The branch, in order to relations of the wool and membership of the branch, is prepared to offer practical assistance this year to associations of wool growers in the preservation and marketing of their wool for sale.

This proposal represents much more than a mere continuation of the work undertaken last year, when two wool classifiers, in the employ of the live stock branch, visited the western provinces and have practical instruction and advice to sheep raisers upon wool growing. Rather, it means the introduction of a definite scheme whereby wool producers may be actually assisted in preparing and presenting their wool upon the market in the most acceptable fashion and thus be in a position to earn more for the requirements of the market.

Moreover, it should prove of active in developing and improving the general class of sheep raising and creating an impetus to the production and preparation of an improved grade of wool and thereby a better class of wool.

The branch will also provide the means for the establishment of a central bureau for the distribution of current information respecting domestic and foreign markets for wool.

Tommy's Hobby

The following happened in a Manchester school the other day. The teacher had been speaking of unique and valuable collection of objects of art and interest and spoke of the famous wealth that had been expended by some of the collectors on their personal hobbies.

"Thinking to obtain some idea of the characters of the members of his class in this direction, he asked them what they thought they would like to collect if they had plenty of money."

"Well, Tommy, and what would you collect?"

"Hens, sir," was the prompt reply. The lesson was changed and that teacher is transferring from the school.

Uses and Value of Timber.

In order to know what a tract of timber is worth it is necessary to know the value of the products. Not only should the general uses of the different kinds of wood be known, but careful attention should be given to any special use for given kinds of wood.

Timber is used for many purposes, such as in the vehicle industry, furniture making, etc. It is again used for many other purposes, such as in the vehicle industry, furniture making, etc.

A Mind Reader

A son of Erin who had the misfortune to get mixed up in an accident, was immediately conveyed to a hospital, where it was found that his only injury was a slight wound.

The house surgeon carefully examined him, after which he thus stated the case to the nurse:

"An abdominal abrasion is not observable. I think there is a little reason to apprehend intestinal distention of the wound. What do you think yourself?" he asked Pat, with a mischievous smile.

"Sure, doctor," replied Pat, "you're a wonderful thought reader. You took the very words out of my mouth. I was just going to say that."

WHY JIMMIE KNEW

He Tells of His Sure Clear in a Chicken on Quacking Match

At a dinner in a suburban district, where all the guests were amateur chicken raisers, after a discussion of the egg problem the conversation turned to the best breed of fowl.

"Well, the ultimate end of every chicken in the pot, and you can't tell the difference when it is on the table. Let's see how many can tell what kind of a hen we have just eaten."

All agreed it was a very good bird, but there were many guesses as to the breed. The only child at the table, a twelve year old boy, was the one who guessed correctly.

The host beamed on him and said, "Jimmie, how did you know it was a Plymouth Rock?"

"Oh, that was easy," he replied. "I found a feather in the soup," burst Jimmie's mother.

She Was No Easy Mark

March 18—Even when she was more than the ordinary childish avenger for learning lessons, being "washed" and having her hair smoothed and shining, and less than the average delight of a fairy tale.

One day upon her return from Sunday school she was questioned as to what she had learned from her vice teacher this time. She cried out: "I learned never to believe in a fairy tale."

Reganum

A city at the bottom of the sea was seen toward the end of October, 1889, near Treptow, in Prussia, when a powerful north wind blew the waters of the Baltic away from the shore, uncovering a part of the sea usually hidden by the waves.

It was the ruins of the city of Reganum, once a flourishing commercial station, which was swallowed by the sea five centuries ago. The unusual sight was visible for only five hours, when the storm slackened, and the waves returned to cover up the place which had once been the home of human beings.

Mothers, if your baby suffers from constipation, if his little stomach and bowels are out of order, give him Baby's Own Tablets. They never fail to give relief and no occasional laxative will banish constipation and keep the stomach and bowels in perfect order.

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The kind hearted woman stopped to relieve the youngster who had chased a cat up a tree.

"You had, boy, suppose you were a cat, would you like to have any one chase you in that fashion?"

"No, wouldn't I though, if I could climb like that," said the youngster, grinning.

A certain kind of blunder is supposed to be characteristic of the Irishman. Prince Talleyrand was suddenly awakened one night by the discharge of a pistol.

Seeing his valet in the apartment, he asked what the trouble was.

"Your highness," replied the man, "there was a mouse in the room, and fearing it might disturb your slumber, I shot it."

Advantage of Early Training

A Chicago business man is the father of a young girl of about fifteen years. Last spring, when the father left for Europe, where he was to spend the entire summer, he promised the girl that if he were to attain a certain mark in his studies, his reward would be a continental trip with his father.

The prospect of such a trip stimulating the lad to such a degree that he attained a mark even higher than that set him by his parent. He called his father the next day and said: "I would mean, however, that the paper had forgotten his offer, for after thinking of it for some time, he asked his son: 'Yes, what?'"

Then, in turn, the son was perplexed. Finally, after some time, he called to his father, "Yes, sir!—the trip free press."

Down His Neck

An Ohio farmer took his numerous progeny to a country fair at that state. As the party moved about the grounds the father felt his fourth horn tugging at his coat tails.

"Well, shake it out," said father, "where the dimm I gave you a little while ago."

"It's down my neck," said father, "where the dimm I gave you a little while ago."

"But, father," protested the lad, "I can't. It was in my mouth when it went down."

An Error in Geography

On one occasion the British lost a point in a war with Russia by reason of an error in their geography.

This was when Commodore Elliot had been sent to the mouth of the Amur, on the east coast of Siberia. The Russians were told that the British ships awaited constantly for such time as the enemy should venture to go to sea. But they waited in vain, and at last an investigation was made.

It was found that the Russian fleet was in the gulf, the British ships slipped away through the shallows at the north end into the sea of Okhotsk. Until this discovery was made the British government had believed Saghalien to be a peninsula. Now, too late, they learned that it was an island, with a very narrow channel at its north end of the gulf running into the sea of Okhotsk.

Forgetful

An eminent painter was once asked if he thought art students did well to go to Europe to study. He said that undoubtedly the atmosphere was more artistic in Europe than anywhere else, but that Paris as a city to study and work in was overrated.

To illustrate his meaning he said that a certain rich man's son after three years in Paris wrote home to his father:

"Dear Father—I have made up my mind to set to work. Please let me know at your earliest convenience whether it is painting, architecture or music I shall go to Paris to study."

This Boy Had Fits For Six Years

Two best doctors gave him up. Wonderful Cure effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

This Letter Tells the Story

Mrs. J. D. Palmer, 36 Park Street, Amsterdam, N.Y., writes:—"When six years of age my boy began to have fits. They came on in the night. He would make strange noises, stiffen out, froth at mouth, face would twitch and sometimes turned purple. After the fit he could not talk."

"The family physician said all he could do was to keep them down somewhat. The second physician pronounced trouble Jeffersonian epilepsy, but could not cure him. He suffered for six years and before beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food had three fits in about five days. Our druggist recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He has taken seven boxes and has not had the symptom of a fit since beginning this treatment five months ago. His color has greatly improved; he is not nervous and irritable like he used to be, and we consider his cure a most remarkable one."

Makes Puny Children Strong and Robust

Epilepsy is a form of nervous excitation and disappears when the motor of the nervous system is restored. Such symptoms as headache, dizziness, ringing in the ears, irritability of temper and spots before the eyes give warning of danger ahead. It may be paralysis, epilepsy or some other form of nervous collapse. The warning tells you that restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is necessary to revitalize the feeble, wasted nervous cells, to fill the system with vigor and ward off dangerous disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so mild and gentle in action and at the same time so powerful in its

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF MANITOBA

The Former Conservative Province Gives Popular Majority to the Liberals in Fight Which Borden Government Made Its Own.

The result of the recent Provincial election in Manitoba is full of significance for all Canada. It is more than a crushing blow for the Roblin government. It tells plainly and emphatically of Manitoba's hostility to the Borden Cabinet and of Manitoba's condemnation of the extravagance, inefficiency and unsound policies of that Cabinet. It forecasts plainly the rejection of Borden candidates by the electors of the province whenever the Ottawa government musters up courage to appeal to the people.

Briefly put, the result of the election has been that the Liberals polled a large majority of the votes cast though the arrangement of the constituencies is such that the Roblin government may be several seats to the good in the next legislature. The Liberals polled the popular majority in a contest in which they had to fight against the organized forces of two governments. The full power of the Borden government was united with the strength of the Roblin Cabinet against the Liberals. Hon. Robert Rogers took active charge of the campaign on behalf of Premier Borden. Two other Borden Ministers were continuously in the province for some time before polling day. A huge campaign fund was provided. The electors of the province were deluged with campaign literature sent out from the Conservative press bureau at Ottawa professing to tell of great things done for western Canada by the Borden government. Yet, with the record and policies of the Ottawa Ministry put before the people as issues in the campaign, the Liberals were given a popular majority of thousands of votes.

The people of Manitoba were sick of the machine tactics of Mr. Rogers and Sir Rodmond Roblin, but the condemnation of the Rogers-Roblin methods is of less significance to the people of Canada generally than the fact that Manitoba, staunchly and strongly Conservative for years, has condemned the record and policies of the Borden government. The Borden-White policy of tariff revision upwards, the refusal of the government to grant the reasonable demand of the farmers for the abolition of the duties on wheat and flour and agricultural implements, the continued readiness of the Premier and his colleagues to hear and obey the whispers of the Special Interests, the attempt of the government to fasten upon Canada the policy of tribute and centralization in navy affairs, the militaristic folly and waste of the Ministry, the hard times which have come with Borden rule—all these have been passed upon by the people of Manitoba and the government has been condemned.

Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba have condemned the policies and actions of the Borden government. It is useless to attempt to blink the fact or explain it away. Federal questions, as well as provincial issues, have been thrust forward in the elections in each of these provinces in the past two years. Each time those who upheld the Borden side have lost. In other provinces there are many signs of antagonism to the Ottawa government, signs which are multiplying as the existing depression continues and the cost of living soars upward while the Premier and his colleagues have no thought save for the giant railway corporations to which they give millions and for the other Special Interests which placed them in power.

Manitoba has emphasized the Liberal flow of the tide. It has marked the growing strength of the hostility to the Borden Ministry. It has given one more indication of the certainty of Borden defeat when the time of reckoning comes. These are the facts which make the Manitoba result so full of significance to all Canada.

SOCIETY WILL BENEFIT BY DEADBEAT'S PASSING

The severe sentences being imposed by judges throughout the country, and the formation by business and professional men of the continent over into associations to protect themselves against "deadbeats," heralds the death-knell of that specimen of humanity which is colloquially referred to as being afflicted with ingrowing pocketbooks.

It is possible to get into the habit of doing a thing; it is possible to get into the habit, too, of not doing it. The habit of paying bills promptly is a good one to form early in life, but it is also a hard one to form because it is sometimes a hard thing to do. Very few in early life remain long enough in a position to pay their bills promptly to permit the formation of a habit of doing so. Extraordinary and unlooked-for expenses are liable to spring up, and the even tenor of the habit suffers interruption. Then, the habit of not paying bills is liable to grow if a strict watch is not maintained.

Organized effort by business and professional men to weed out from among their clients those who are exceptionally given to not paying their bills, if exercised carefully and judiciously, will do a lot of good, and undo a lot of injustice that is being perpetrated by "deadbeats." No one who meets his obligations honestly will object to it. And the financial situation may in time become easier because of it. The elimination of the "deadbeat" would be a good thing for society at large, and of the men on the bench who are handing out the misery unmercifully the worst that can be said is "more power to their elbow."

HINDUS FINALLY LEAVE VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B.C., July 25.—Shortly after five o'clock Thursday morning the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru steamed out of the harbor on her way back to Oriental waters.

Her motley crew of Hindus made no demonstration, and the services of the local militia companies, who spent the night on the wharf, were not needed. The vessel was conveyed out of the harbor by the cruiser Rainbow, which will accompany her to a point off the Vancouver Island shore. Two months ago the Komagata arrived in Vancouver harbor.

London, July 25.—The underwriters are not taking a gloomy view of the poor public reception accorded the Province of Ontario loan. In spite of late happenings in connection with Canadian financial houses in London, there is

When the enterprising farmer sows his grain in the spring, he has in mind the harvest, and after the harvest the marketing of his produce. He naturally wants to have the best return possible for his labor, but sometimes is not able to get in touch with just the best market. The farmer who specializes on some particular branch of agriculture is bound to produce a high grade of stock or grain, or roots or dairy produce, and should be able to command a higher price than he would for a low grade product.

Recognizing this fact, the Edmonton Exhibition Association has steadily increased its classes in all branches of farming, and has added to its prizes to encourage bringing the best out of Alberta's soil. The producer who brings his products to compete with those of other producers will find that this open competition thus afforded is the best advertising he can get, and if his products are worthy, he is assured of a permanent market.

One exhibitor of last year writes: "I took the prizes for white potatoes last year, and this year have had orders for seed potatoes of this variety from all over the province."

The Association has under consideration an innovation which should be of great educational value to the farming community. This will consist of a practical demonstration as to the methods of making stock raising profitable, such as raising a better grade of animals, and the advantage derived from studying the matter of feeding and general care.

Edmonton Consumers' League will occupy space in the stock pavilion, and are arranging a series of talks with the idea of bringing together the producer and consumer, in order to arrange for marketing farm and dairy produce in a way whereby both producer and consumer will secure the best possible returns.

The classes for domestic manufactures and dairy produce are extensive, and afford the housewife ample scope to show her skill in preparing table delicacies in kitchen and dairy.

BROOMHALL SENDS MIXED REPORT ON CROPS.

Saskatoon, July 18.—The western correspondent for Broomhall brings a message containing both good and evil tidings, and in an interview with the Western Associated Press last night gave it as his opinion that the wheat crop of Saskatchewan would be about sixty per cent. of normal, but that the price would be better than that obtained during the past three or four years. "Wheat should net the farmers at the country elevators between 90c and $1.00 for No. 1 Northern," he said.

During the past three weeks he has driven about 400 miles a week, and now believes that the crops on light land have suffered to a considerable extent, while the crop on heavy soil has weathered the hot, dry spell satisfactorily. Along the Goose Lake line as far west as Zealandia and along the C.N.R. line from Saskatoon to Prince Albert he is inclined to think that the dry weather has adversely affected the wheat, and believes the same is to be true of the crop along the C.P.R. from Moose Jaw to Outlook.

Alberts, he considers, will be fortunate if half a crop is obtainable, quantity and quality considered. He admits that in quantity it may do better than this, but believes the quality will be lacking.

Manitoba, he said, was in about the same position, and Saskatchewan at present appeared to present the best prospects for a crop.

He based his argument that the price this fall will be higher than in past years on the fact that the Russian crop was admitted to be short, and that he felt confident Canada would be in the same class when the final estimates were made. This added to the fact that the French crop was poor, convinced him that the higher grades on Canadian hard wheat would be in strong demand, and owing to the shortage the price would be higher.

ACCIDENTS AT WINNIPEG FAIR

Winnipeg, July 15.—A serious accident occurred at the Winnipeg exhibition this morning. At the autrodrome of a carnival show a section of the gallery on which the visitors were standing collapsed, and fourteen persons fell to the ground 12 feet below. Several were injured by striking crossbars in their fall, while others were hurt by being struck by other people in falling. Mrs. Riordan, 15 Gunn Block, Winnipeg, had her left leg fractured, and was conveyed to the General Hospital, as was Mrs. Arthur Howard, whose back was severely wrenched. Others rather seriously injured were Miss Lillian Eaton, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. B. Sodar, all of Winnipeg.

There were several other mishaps during the day. R. J. Richards was riding in a running race on the track when his horse fell and rolled over him. When picked up it was found that Richards had his collar bone broken.

Today was citizens' day, and there was a record attendance, the crowd being officially stated to be 62,670, which establishes a record for Winnipeg and all western fairs.

MUST DEAL WITH WOMAN SUFFRAGE

London, July 17.—That the next government, whatever it might be, "would be obliged to deal with the woman suffrage question as a party measure in some shape or form" was the encouraging message given to a large deputation of international suffragettes at the house of commons on Tuesday by Francis Dyke-Acland, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs.

Lord Robert Cecil, for the Unionists, and James Ramsay MacDonald, for the Laborites, who addressed the deputation, expressed the opinion that the time was not far distant when the women would be enfranchised.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the international women suffrage alliance, in returning thanks in behalf of the visitors, said they were pleased to find themselves within the walls of the house of commons, which was the storm centre of the world-wide suffragette movement.

The visitors were entertained at tea on the terrace.

AMERICAN BREEDERS CAPTURE CHAMPIONSHIP

Winnipeg, July 17.—The championship in the dairy cattle section of the Winnipeg exhibition went to the American breeder G. Slade, of Bear Lake, Minn., on Noble Ruler. In the heavy horse department the championship for stallions was won by Finch Bros. of Fargo, N.D., with Kilder, and these breeders also won the championship for mares with Kemerque. C. D. Roberts, Winnipeg, got the championship for American-bred stallions and Canadian-bred mares, while the championship for Canadian-bred stallions went to R. P. Stanley, Moosomin, Sask.

Prominent prize winners in the cattle section were Carpenter and Ross, of Mansfield, Ohio, who won in nine firsts and a championship; the Emmert herd of Oak Bluff, Man., eight firsts and two grand champions; the Wall herd of Salem, Ont., four firsts; and J. G. Barron, Carberry, Man., four firsts.

THREE WOMEN DROWNED IN LAKE

Bridgewater, N.S., July 8.—A triple drowning accident occurred here Wednesday. All the victims were women, and they lost their lives while bathing in a lake a short distance from town. The dead are:

Mrs. William Dagley.
Miss Beattie Dagley, daughter of Mrs. William Dagley.
Mrs. Teel, of Port Medway.

The scene of the accident was Wallace Lake, one mile from Italy Cross, where the Dagley family reside. They went in bathing and Mrs. Teel got beyond her depth. In attempting to save her the other women lost their lives. All their bodies were recovered.

9 HURT, 3 FATALLY, IN C.N.R. WRECK

Brandon, Man., July 19.—Three men were badly injured internally and about six less seriously hurt when one passenger and three baggage cars of a C.N.R. special jumped the track and were turned completely over. About six cars and all but four wheels of the engine left the track. There were over 300 fair excursionists on the train. The accident occurred 40 miles east of Brandon.

N.B. CLODBURST DOES $300, 000 DAMAGE

Apohqui, N.B., July 19.—A clodburst Saturday morning during the most disastrous storm in the memory of residents of Apohqui caused damage estimated at $300,000, and will result in the closing of the Jones Bros. mill owing to the loss of one million logs and the wrecking of the structure by the mighty flood in the mill stream. Roads and bridges were swept away by the torrential rainfalls and flood, and crops are ruined in the mill stream valley. Barns owned by A. E. Calperts and James O'Neill were struck by lightning and burned, and four dwelling houses were badly damaged by bolts.

THAW GETS CONTROL OF SMALL FORTUNE

Pittsburg, Pa., July 15.—After six months' legal battle, Harry K. Thaw, in a decision handed down by Judge James W. Over, in orphan's court today, is awarded the income from his father's estate, which has been denied him by the trustees since he was adjudged insane for the slaying of Stanford White. By the decision Thaw gets $100,773. Judge Over says Thaw is legally entitled to the money, despite the fact that alienists declare Thaw is suffering from an exaggerated sense of self—which would make it unwise to commit any large sums of money into his personal charge.

RESTRAINED FROM PUBLISH- ING PRICES.

Chicago, July 17.—An injunction restraining the Chicago butter and egg board from publishing prices on butter, eggs and other products has been issued by Judge Landis.

In a suit filed some months ago, the government charged that by publishing prices on the commodities in which it dealt the butter and egg board artificially created prices higher than the market warranted and violated the federal law prohibiting all acts in restraint of trade. The suit is similar to the recent action against the Elgin board of trade which ended in a decree directing that actual sales should all be quoted and no attempt to fix prices should be made by what is known as the price committee.
